LILIBET MAKES A FRIEND

Kersten Hamilton

Disney Hyperion, April 2026

NEW!

Lilibet has lots of friends—it's just that they are all imaginary! Can she build the perfect real-life friend?

With a relatable neurodivergent main character and a message of friendship and acceptance, this funny and heartfelt picture book is perfect for 3-5 year olds.

Lilibet has tools, a lab, and a notebook. She also has lots of friends, like Calico Cate, Tom Zombie, and Dire Pup. It's just that they're all imaginary. So she plans a new project, REAL FRIEND 1.0, and makes a list of requirements:

- Knows the difference between a bug and an insect (extremely important!)
- Never calls her robot face
- Or computer brain
- Does not ask if Lilibet is a boy or a girl

As she sets out to build a friend, she is joined by Paul “Peanut” Shelley, who is keen to help, whether Lilibet likes it or not. It turns out, sometimes the best of friends come from unexpected places.

Celebrated author Kersten Hamilton writes from her own experience on the autism spectrum, creating a one-of-a-kind neurodivergent protagonist in a story brimming charm and humor.

HONEYBEE HIGHWAY

Shanna Upchurch

Disney Hyperion, April 2026

NEW!

HONEYBEE HIGHWAY gets an ecological twist in this celebration of honeybees, agriculture, family, and—above all—kid power in the latest addition to Disney Planet Possible Books.

An big truck barrels across the country, loaded with over 400 beehives. It's bound for the almond groves of California, and seven-year-old JJ is along for the ride!

Once there, the honeybees will pollinate the almond flowers, bouncing from tree to tree to help the almonds grow. These beehives are part of the honeybee highway, an expansive network of commercial beehives that play an essential role in growing the food that feeds the people of our world—just ask Joey J. She's a honeybee expert and an essential member of her uncle's team. Uncle Mike, Jose, and Joey load up the bee crates and make the long journey across the country—stopping only at night so as not to disturb the bees. After that, there is a lot to worry about, like how to keep the bees cool, passing inspection, and wondering if native pollinators will ever be able to help grow enough food to feed the planet.

With the lyricism and family relationships of favorites like HONEYBEE HIGHWAY, this stunning debut sheds light on a little-known piece of our world's food supply and celebrates the magnificent honeybee.

Shanna Upchurch and is an active member of SCBWI. She grew up in rural, Midwestern America, the daughter of a geneticist who encouraged her scientific explorations. Her memories of childhood include barefoot romps through the woods, observing crawfish and tadpoles in the creeks, and spying on families of cottontail rabbits nesting in the backyard. All of which gave Shanna a deep appreciation for the natural world. She lives outside in Texas with a bunch of chickens and children where, in addition to her day job, she manages a small homestead. Her favorite part is tending to the bees, of course! She is well-known in her community as the person who will throw on a bee suit at any time of day to lovingly relocate a swarm or inspect a hive. Her own honeybees are quite spoiled and produce rich, clover honey because Shanna won't let anyone mow the back pasture.

Kellie DuBay Gillis grew up in Bay City, Michigan, with kids who loved to make things and to share neighborhood adventures on an old purple tandem bike. She writes stories about things you find in nature, things you might not find in nature unless you know the magical places to look, things that happen to most kids, and things most kids wish would happen. Kellie is an environmental scientist and communications specialist with over 25 years of experience blending her passion for protecting the planet with storytelling. She lives just outside of Cleveland, Ohio, with her family.

Wazza Pink lives in Ha Noi, Vietnam. She’s loved to read comics and picture books ever since she was a kid, and learned to draw by mimicking the styles of her favorite comic book artists. IGGY WHO BREATHES FIRE

Carrie Kruck, illustrated by Erika Meza

Disney Hyperion, October 2024

“Featuring characters clad in a Day-Glo rainbow of colors, Meza’s warm illustrations pit Iggy’s fiery exhalations against flat backgrounds. The layouts are dynamic, while the language is clear and direct; children will easily grasp the metaphor and embrace the message of self-acceptance. IA blazing paeon to self-love.” —Kirkus Reviews

Meet Iggy, a fiery new hero who knows exactly what she’s about—no matter what others think.

This hilarious picture book celebrates self-awareness and is perfect for fans of Imogene’s Antlers and The Paper Bag Princess.

Iggy was born to set the world on fire—literally. Her parents aren’t so sure. They bring in the experts—a professor, fire chief, librarian, and doctor—who suggest everything from eating ice cream to sitting in a cold room, but none can help her tame her fire.

Hilarious and heartwarming (get it?) in equal measure, IGGY WHO BREATHES FIRE celebrates that kids are the true experts when it comes to their own identity, and it’s up to them to decide when and how to share themselves with the world.

Ages 3-5

Carrie Kruck was born and raised in Canada, studied and worked as a psychologist in Australia, and now lives in a cozy house at the edge of the woods in New England. Her home is filled with laughter and love and a lot of Lego, and has a room with built-in bookshelves that she calls “the library,” so she has pretty much everything she needs! IMPOSSIBLE POSSUMS

Justin Colón

Disney Hyperion, October 2024

Carl is bad. Bad to the bone. The only thing that would make being this bad even better would be someone to share it with. Cue the Possum Populator and a whole bunch of bad guys.

Perfect for fans of Despicable Me and Lilo & Stitch, this exceptionally goofy picture book stars aspiring villain Carl the possum, who is on a mission to create a like-minded conspirator.

Life as an aspiring villain is lonely for Carl the possum, so he's on a mission to create a like-minded conspirator. But when his Possum Populator arrives, it requires assembly (and villains don't have time for that). So, Carl tosses the instructions, leading to a series of outlandish mishaps and mounting frustration as the contraption pops out all the wrong creations.

Hilarious and imaginative, this picture book will have readers laughing and eager for more diabolical misadventures with Carl at the helm.

Ages 3-7
Material: PDF, 40 pages

Justin Colón is a professional actor and children's book author. This is his second picture book, joining his debut, The Quacken. THE TOP SPOT

Frank Weber

Disney Hyperion, September 2024

“A quirky, inspired parable.” –Kirkus Reviews

For fans of MR. TIGER GOES WILD and I WANT MY HAT BACK, author-illustrator Frank Weber presents style, stunning illustrations, and sly humor in THE TOP SPOT, which explores themes of happiness and the why of competing in the rat race called life.

A little ibex is challenged to compete against the bigger ibexes for the top spot in the herd, a contest the little ibex stands no chance of winning. With the help of a wise mountain goat, the little ibex returns home, outsmarts his rivals, and claims the top spot. But is it everything he thought it would be?

Frank Weber’s debut, More Dung! combined scatological humor with existential angst. The Top Spot continues the existential tradition, inviting young readers to continue asking their favorite question: why?

MORE DUNG! A BEETLE TALE

Frank Weber

Disney Hyperion, May 2024

★“A sure storytime hit.” —Kirkus (starred review)

“The combination of absurd humor and clever social commentary gives the book broad appeal, making it an easy choice for a giggly storytime or a discussion on what and how we decide to commodify things.” —The Bulletin of the Center for Children’s Books

“South Africa–born animator and director Weber makes a visually comic picture book debut with this fable about the power of appreciation ...The moral—knowing when enough truly is enough—underscores the folly of greed while playfully reassuring that one mistake doesn’t have to last a lifetime.” —Publishers Weekly

“The efficient text and strong page design result in a briskly paced story, yet subtle narrative flourishes throughout the illustrations will surely be discovered and appreciated through unhurried viewing.” —Horn Book Magazine

For fans of Jon Klassen and Peter Brown comes MORE DUNG!, a slyly funny and stunningly illustrated picture book about a greedy dung beetle by debut author-illustrator Frank Weber.

The dung beetle thinks he has everything he needs: the warmth of the sun, a gurgling river, and as much dung as he could ever want. But when a leopard tells him of a farm with even MORE dung, the beetle’s world suddenly looks small. And so he sets off to the farm, accruing more and more dung, building a veritable DUNG EMPIRE! But a tower of dung comes with a tower of risk, and soon our insect hero finds himself buried in his greed. (Yes, he’s buried in poop.)

Frank Weber seamlessly blends philosophical questions about greed with scatological humor and truly gorgeous artwork to create this special debut.

After much training, Jax and four of his summoner classmates from DuSable Middle school in Chicago are thrust into a competition called the Tournament of Spirits where they’ll face the most skilled summoners from around the world.

Can Jax take the top spot in the tournament and save himself and his friends from a mysterious foe?

He's been sent away from home to live with relatives he barely knows. But even worse are the strangers who accost him at the train station, including a food vendor who throws dust in his face and a conductor who tries to steal his skin.

At his new school, Jax is assigned to a special class for "summoners," even though he has no idea what those are . . . until he accidentally unleashes an angry spirit on school grounds. Soon Jax is embroiled in all kinds of trouble, from the disappearance of a new friend to full-out war between summoning families.

When Jax learns that he isn't the first Freeman to be blamed for a tragedy he didn't create, he resolves to clear his own name and that of his great-grandfather, who was a porter back in the 1920's. By following clues, Jax and his schoolmates unlock the secrets of a powerful Praise House, evade vengeful ghosts, and discover that Jax may just be the most talented summoner of all.

A unique magic-school fantasy from the best-selling and award-winning author of the Tristan Strong trilogy has just pulled into the station.

Serwa Boateng Book 3

Roseanne A. Brown

Disney Hyperion, April 2025

“Rosie writes her characters with such lyrical power, wit, and empathy that you can’t help falling in love with Serwa Boateng, her family, and her friends.” —Rick Riordan, New York Times best-selling author of the Percy Jackson and the Olympians series

Serwa Boateng has gone head-to-head with vampires, witches, and even a death god. But now, with the fate of the magical world at stake, she'll have to face her toughest foe yet: her own grandmother.

Finally free after decades of being trapped inside the Midnight Drum, the dreaded obayifo Nana Bekoe seeks the destruction of the Abomofuo. Even worse, she has Serwa’s father under her thrall. Now, the hunters have become the hunted, as the Slayers’ defenses are powerless in the face of an enemy who has access to all their secrets.

Serwa’s only chance of saving her father might just lie with the Keepers, an organization whose powers exist outside the normal rules of magic. But the Keepers are even more secretive than the Abomofuo, and finding them will require Serwa to trek across the United States. At least she has her friends by her side for the journey . . . friends who currently hate her guts. The survival of everything and everyone Serwa has ever loved hinges on her completing this final hunt without losing herself in the process. Serwa Boateng has been a Slayer. She’s been a vampire. But now, it’s time for her to become something else entirely: a hero.

When the forces of black magic learn that the Abomofuo have hidden the Drum deep within the Smithsonian Museum in Washington, DC, what do they do? Stage a heist to steal it, of course. THE LAST FALLEN REALM

The Gifted Clans Book 3

Graci Kim

Disney Hyperion, June 2023, paperback April 2025

Best-selling author Rick Riordan presents the thrilling conclusion to Graci Kim's best-selling Gifted Clans trilogy.

Riley Oh wasn't born into her family. Instead, as she recently discovered, she tumbled down to the earth many years ago as the last fallen star. Riley Oh also wasn't born to be a witch. Like, at all—even her status as a divine celestial being comes with zilch in the magical powers department. And Riley Oh definitely wasn't born to be a leader. But now the entire magical community thinks she and her soul-twin, Dahl, are meant to lead the world into the Age of the Final Eclipse (or whatever it is that the Haetae keeps saying they're “destined” to do). Greeeat.

But ever since Riley killed the Cave Bear Goddess, she's been a bit preoccupied with one thing: waiting for the goddess's sisters to get their revenge. And it looks like her wait is finally over—because as witches from around the world prepare for war, it seems as though the goddesses are preparing for something much worse. Something that will lure Riley and her friends deep into the realm of the gods. Into a world of humongous, talking moon bunnies; life-or-death mini-golf competitions; and...magical gummy candies?

And in order to save the world, Riley must do the one thing she was born to do: believe in herself.
