The Storyteller
by Katherine Williams

A modern imagining of the story of Anastasia Romanov, "grip-lit" that cleverly addresses issues of love, loss and finding one's self. In 1918, Anastasia Romanov and her entire royal family were brutally executed. Or were they? When a high school student opens a trunk in an attic in New Hampshire and discovers journals that suggest her great great great Aunt was Anastasia, she finds herself embroiled in story of intrigue, betrayal, love and ultimately, death.

A genre-blending novel that is sure to grip readers to the very end, mixing mystery, romance, historical fiction, and a touch of purpose into one terrific experience. Readers will be engrossed... and encouraged by the message around finding your identity." — Booklist.

"A book that will sit with readers, making them question what exactly is a person's truth." — SLJ

"A breezily engaging read." — Publishers Weekly

THE IMPOSSIBLE CLIMB young reader's adaptation
by Mark Synnott and Hampton Synnott

A middle grade adaptation of the adult bestseller that chronicles what The New York Times deemed "one of the great athletic feats of any kind, ever": Alex Honnold's free-solo ascent of El Capitan in Yosemite National Park. Author Mark Synnott broke the story for National Geographic and the world watched in awe. Now adapted for a younger audience, The Impossible Climb tells the gripping story of how a quiet kid from Sacramento, California, grew up to capture the attention of the entire globe by redefining the limits of human potential through hard work, discipline, and a deep respect for the natural world.

WHAT THE DOG KNOWS:

Scent, Science, and the Amazing Ways Dogs Perceive the World by Cat Warren

+ The young readers edition of the
New York Times bestseller

Cat Warren and her canine companion, Solo, teach readers that the nose knows no bounds when it comes to working together, being persistent, and helping others.

Solo has a fine nose and knows how to use it, but he's only one of many thousands of scent-detection dogs all over the United States. That's a group that includes cadaver dogs, tracking, trailing, and apprehension dogs; dogs that can locate unmarked graves of Civil War soldiers; and even dogs that can find drowning victims more than two hundred feet below the surface of a lake. What the Dog Knows shows the science, the rigorous training, and the skilled handling that underlie these amazing abilities.

FLY LIKE A GIRL

One Woman's Dramatic Fight in Afghanistan and on the Home Front

By Mary Jennings Hegar

A Young Readers Edition of a compelling story of courage and triumph, this is the inspiring true story of a brave and determined woman who gave her all for her country, her sense of justice, and for women everywhere. On July 29, 2009, Air National Guard Major Mary Jennings Hegar was shot down while on a Medevac mission in Afghanistan. Despite being wounded, her courageous actions saved the lives of her crew and their patients, earning her the Purple Heart as well as the Distinguished Flying Cross with Valor Device. That day also marked the beginning of a new mission: fighting for the rights of women to serve openly on the front line of battle for the first time in history.

Includes exclusive photographs throughout, a discussion guide, and a Q&A with the author written specifically for teen readers.

Category: Young Adult nonfiction / memoir

Publisher: Philomel (N/Am) +

Pub date: Spring 2020 + Materials: Finals

Major Mary Jennings Hegar, one of Foreign Policy Magazine’s 100 Leading Global Thinkers of 2013 and one of Newsweek’s 125 Women of Impact of 2012, completed pilot training by the Air National Guard at the top of her class, served three tours in Afghanistan flying Combat Search and Rescue as well as medevac missions, during which was shot down. Her actions on this mission earned her the Distinguished Flying Cross with Valor Device. MJ has run for Congress and speaks publicly about both her experiences in the military and her fight for increased military readiness through equality.

HOW TO SELL YOUR FAMILY TO THE ALIENS

trilogy by Paul Noth

- + Sold at auction in a six-figure deal
- + Author a celebrated cartoonist, working with The New Yorker and Saturday Night Live
- + Books are hilarious, and perfect for reluctant readers
- + Quirky, goofy science-fiction

Happy Conklin Jr.'s dad is a brilliant, successful inventor of screwball products. Too bad that Hap's tyrannical Grandma is stealing all his money and lives in an enormous mansion while the rest of the family lives in the basement. When Hap sees a chance to get rid of Grandma, he takes it! But when he—oops!—sells his whole family to the aliens, he wants nothing more than to get them back. But how?! In Book Two, Hap wants a girl in his science class to be his lab partner but lacks the courage to even talk to her. He finds a way to overcome this fear but also, unfortunately, opens a blackhole that will swallow the solar system, unless he's able to stop it. In Book Three, Hap—now a prisoner of the Galactic Empire—must stop his Grandma's war before she destroys everything. He'll need the help of his lab partner and secret crush back on Earth. But first he'll have to convince her that he isn't dead!

"Strange and original with just the right amount of juvenile humor, this story features odd and endearing characters and a wonderfully weird plot." —School Library Journal

"Readers will be likewise amused by the random twists, silly inventions, and frequent spot drawings and sequential panels." —Booklist

TOR SEIDLER

GMA is now representing the front and back lists of the foreign editions for National Book Award finalist, Tor Seidler

Over the past 30 years, To has become one of the most important voices in children's fiction, with such classic as A Rat's Take, ALA Notable Book, The Wainscott Weasel, Terpin, and National Book Award finalist, Mean Margaret Phoenix the squirrel is used to being "the pick of the litter... the biggest of the bunch, with the most lustrous fur." But after being snatched by a red-tailed hawk, haughty Phoenix finds himself battered and furless in Manhattan, far from his forest home Seidler (Firstborn) convincingly portrays rodent-human parallels; the rats' diverse community is passionately united as they fight to save their home, sabotaging electrical grids to raise awareness and sending strongly worded letters (written by Beckett) to voice their dissent. Soft black-and-white spot illustrations by Evans (the Little Paws series) add further charm to this animal adventure with direct social commentary.

Firstborn

Tor Seidler. S&S/Atheneum, $16.99 (240p) ISBN 978-1-4814-1017-5

The designation "firstborn" applies to several characters in Seidler's animal adventure—the effervescent narrator, Maggie the magpie; Blue Boy, a wolf who accepts Maggie as an unofficial pack member; and Lamar, Blue Boy's eldest son, who wrestles with familial duties and his unorthodox love for a coyote... Themes of self-acceptance, devotion, and integrity resonate as Maggie and others act on wisdom she learns from her first friend, Jackson the crow: "you can't be loyal to others if you're not loyal to your own nature first." A moving acknowledgement of true friendship provides a heartwarming conclusion to this absorbing tale. Ages 9–14.
