DR. RAE WYNN-GRANT

SPRING 2025

A picture book that takes inspiration from Dr. Rae Wynn-Grant's childhood love of nature, her experiences as an ecologist and as a mother. As one of the few Black female ecologists in her field, Dr. Wynn-Grant was often made to feel that she didn't belong in the sciences. This is her love letter to the natural world, and an affirmation that everyone belongs in nature.

The Wilderness of Girls

MADELINE CLAIRE FRANKLIN

For fans of Sadie and The Hazel Wood, an unflinching modern fairytale about a troubled teen who discovers a pack of feral girls in the woods and the ensuing mystery that unravels.

Rhi has just begun her new job at the Happy Valley Wildlife preserve when she stumbles upon a surreal sight: a pack of wolves guarding four majestic girls who have been raised in the woods.

Rhi gains the trust of the girls, dubbed by the ravenous media and true crime junkies as “The Wild Girls of Happy Valley”, who reveal that they are princesses from another land, raised by a prophet called Mother. Rhi knows the girls are deluded, but as she grows closer to them, she witnesses strange phenomena that suggest that the line between fantasy and reality is blurrier than she realizes.

As the hunt for answers intensifies, Rhi must make a decision that will change her life and the lives of the Wild Girls forever.

AUTHOR BIO

Madeline Claire Franklin is a graduate of the Vermont College of Fine Arts MFA program. She is a queer, Jewish, invisibly disabled woman living in sin in Buffalo, NY, with her partner, two dogs, three cats, and two Roombas.

The Dark We Know

WEN-YI LEE

Wen-yi Lee's horror YA debut pitched as Stephen King's It meets She Is a Haunting about a Chinese American teen's return to defeat the monster of her past.

After the deaths of her two best friends, Isadora Chang swore never to return to her dead-end hometown of Slater. But when Isa's abusive father dies, she can't resist the chance to claim an inheritance that will help pay for art school.

As soon as Isa is back in town, however, her last surviving childhood friend Mason Kane reappears in her life with both a plea and a shocking revelation: the souls of the ones they've lost are still trapped in Slater, and he needs Isa's help to free them. Because something monstrous is waiting in the shadows of Slater, something that feeds on the pain and heartbreak of its children—and whatever it is, it knows Isa's back and it won't let her escape twice.

AUTHOR BIO

Based in Singapore, Wen-yi Lee is an alum of the Clarion West Writers' Workshop and is an Octavia E. Butler Memorial scholar. Her writing has appeared in Strange Horizons, Uncanny Magazine, Lightspeed, Anathema and Augur among others.

The Doomsday Archives

The Heart-Stealer Mask

ZACK LORAN CLARK AND NICK ELIOPULOS

The next installment in The Doomsday Archives introduces an alluring new occult relic and a sinister new foe—a masked monster that lures victims with visions of their hearts’ desires.

Unlike her friends Emrys and Serena, Hazel is struggling to adjust to magic and to their new roles as the secret protectors of New Rotterdam. She’s already worried about her mom, who works endless shifts at the hospital to make ends meet, and now she also has to worry about defending their entire town from supernatural forces. If only Hazel could figure out how to use her relic, the Magnus Crown, which has the power to transform matter, including turning lead into gold . . . gold that would certainly help ease her family’s financial issues.

But before Hazel can crack the Crown’s secrets, the trio discover a chilling new monster is hunting in New Rotterdam, luring its victims with visions of what they desire most. To Hazel’s horror, the monster seems to know exactly what’s in her heart and how to reel her in . . .

With eerie black-and-white illustrations by Julian Callos and chilling Wiki excerpts, The Heart-Stealer Mask continues the deliciously creepy Doomsday Archives series by Zack Loran Clark and Nick Eliopoulos.

AUTHOR BIO

Zack Loran Clark and Nick Eliopoulos are best friends with a shared love of roleplaying games, epic fantasy, and spooky stories. Together, they are the authors of The Adventurers Guild trilogy. Separately, Zack is the author of The Lock-Eater, and Nick has written more than a dozen officially licensed Minecraft books. Zack lives in Brooklyn, where he keeps a collection of potentially mystical artifacts. Nick lives in Upstate New York, beside an allegedly haunted river. Thanks to the wonders of the internet, they still game together every week.

A luminous picture book biography about artist and activist Lorraine Hansberry, who was the playwright of A Raisin in the Sun, the first play by a Black woman to be produced on Broadway.

Lorraine Hansberry soared to fame when her play A Raisin in the Sun debuted on Broadway, and her work would go on to influence generations of artists. But before the spotlight, Lorraine was a little girl who walked everywhere with a notebook, eager to capture the sights, sounds, and stories of the people around her.

What I Must Tell the World vividly follows Lorraine's journey to finding her voice and her determination to bring Black stories to the stage. Jay Leslie's text and Loveis Wise's artwork capture the experiences that inspired Lorraine, from her childhood in the segregated south side of Chicago to her adult years in Harlem creating alongside other legends like James Baldwin. Lyrical, vibrant, and empowering, this picture book is a celebration of Lorraine Hansberry's life and legacy and an ode to the power of theater and storytelling.

AUTHOR BIO

Jay Leslie has always loved to write. Everywhere she goes, she carries a notebook just in case she gets a new idea—most of all, she loves to write the books that she wishes she'd had as a child. Jay grew up in the United States, but now lives in Berlin, Germany, where she spends her time writing novels, learning new languages, and backpacking through the Schwarzwald. Jay's picture books include Who Did It First? 50 Politicians, Activists, and Revolutionized the World and Game, Set, Sisters! The Story of Venus and Serena Williams.

Loveis Wise is a multidisciplinary artist and capricorn drawing reimagined futures and playfulness in Los Angeles. They are best known for illustrating picture book titles such as Magnolia Flower by Zora Neale Hurston and Dr. Ibram X. Kendi, Ablaze With Color: A Story of Painter Alma Thomas by Jeanne Walker Harvey, Becoming Charley by Kelly DiPucchio, and notably the Coretta Scott King Award honoree, The People Remember by Ibi Zoboi.

Celestial Banquet

ROSELLE LIM

In Roselle Lim's YA fantasy debut, a young noodle chef competes in a cutthroat cooking competition for the gods in a vibrant world inspired by Chinese and Southeast Asian folklore.

Once every generation, the Major Gods hold a Celestial Banquet, inviting chefs from all over the Continent to prepare mouthwatering fantastical feasts. The winner is awarded the fabled Peaches of Immortality, along with a lifetime of fame and fortune. The losers perish per the whims of the fickle gods.

Hot-headed noodle chef Cai enters the competition with dreams of owning her own restaurant and supporting her impoverished Peninsula town. Along with the drunken Minor God Kama, her childhood crush-turned-friend Bo, and dreamy noble Seon, Cai must now compete against the Continent's finest culinary masters in trials that range from hunting and serving up mystical sea serpents to preparing a magical omurice from the eggs of the legendary Jian bird.

Battling impossible odds and inconvenient feelings for both Bo and Seon, Cai is determined to prepare a feast fit for the gods—even if she loses her life. In this spectacular debut YA fantasy, Iron Chef meets The Hunger Games in a high-stakes cooking competition for the gods.

AUTHOR BIO

Roselle Lim was born in the Philippines and immigrated to Canada as a child. She lived in north Scarborough in a diverse, Asian neighborhood. She found her love of writing by listening to her lola (paternal grandmother's) stories about Filipino folktales. Growing up in a household where Chinese superstition mingled with Filipino Catholicism, she devoured books about mythology, which shaped the fantasies in her novels. Roselle Lim is the critically acclaimed author of Natalie Tan's Book of Luck and Fortune, Vanessa Yu's Magical Paris Tea Shop and Sophie Go's Lonely Hearts Club. She lives on the north shore of Lake Erie and always has an artistic project on the go.

These Vengeful Wishes

VANESSA MONTALBAN

A teen girl moves to a small town and discovers a mysterious wishing well possessed by La Cegua, a vengeful female spirit with the face of a horse skull, in Vanessa Montalban's new YA fantasy standalone.

When her stepfather is arrested, aspiring artist Ceci moves back to her mother's hometown of Santa Aguas, an eccentric small town steeped in the legend of La Cegua, the specter of a wronged witch who appears on lonely roads at night, luring untrustworthy men to their deaths.

Ceci and her mother take up residence in the abandoned manor of the Sevilla family, rumored to have been cursed by La Cegua, where she begins to uncover a past that seems to be connected to her mother. The more she learns of the Sevillas, the more Ceci finds herself forming a strange affinity with the feared Cegua, who she suspects is the one inspiring her paintings of a mysterious door in the forest.

When the very door Ceci has been painting appears in the woods, she decides to venture through it with her new friend, Jamie. Together, they discover a well, guarded by the statue of a veiled woman. A well for granting wishes. The well of La Cegua.

What starts off as harmless fun quickly escalates into something sinister when Ceci realizes that the wishes are putting the people she loves in danger and testing her own penchant for vengeance. After learning others are also searching for the well, Ceci must confront the truth of her mother's past and prevent La Cegua's wishes from being used for the wrong reasons. Ceci knows too well how much people will sacrifice for power. Every wish has its price, and La Cegua never forgets the ones who have wronged her.

AUTHOR BIO

Fueled by the magic of espresso, Miami-born Vanessa Montalban channels her wanderlust for far-off worlds into writing speculative fiction for teens. She's a first-gen graduate from the University of Central Florida where she received her bachelor's in creative writing with summa cum laude honors. A Tall Dark Trouble was her debut YA novel.

PAUL COCCIA

In this opposites-attract YA rom-com inspired by Emma, a failed romantic gesture puts a damper on a queer teen bookseller's summer of book matching and matchmaking until a handsome lifeguard and romance skeptic waltzes into his bookstore. Sometimes you get a second chance at happily ever after when you least expect it . . .

Curvaceous, clever, and an avid reader, seventeen-year-old Bobby Ashton never misses a main character moment. So when it comes to asking out his crush, he plans a romantic gesture grand enough to go down in local history. Unfortunately, though, his extensive knowledge of every rom-com trope ever doesn't prepare him for how tragically he misreads the situation. Suddenly Bobby's very public romantic gesture turns into an ordeal so embarrassing it could be a villain origin story.

Having masterfully shattered every plan for his perfect summer before college, Bobby's last resort is working at his uncle's sleepy bookstore. Soon, Bobby is expertly recommending books for customers to perfectly cure what ails them. Attempting to rebound after a breakup? There's a book for that. Trying to tame your crochety coworker? There's a book for that too. Then a plot twist Bobby never saw coming walks through the door in the form of Luke, an unfairly attractive and staunchly anti-romantic lifeguard.

Bobby's blossoming connection with Luke reminds him of some of his favorite tropes: grumpy-sunshine, quippy banter, and even forced proximity. But after his last romantic disaster, should Bobby use all the tricks in his arsenal to turn Luke's head? Or is he misreading all the signs again? Do grand gestures really need to be so . . . grand?

Perfect for fans of Becky Albertalli, Kacen Callender, and Jason June, Recommended Reading is a big-hearted rom-com about discovering love beyond what's in the books . . . but hey, the perfect recommendation can get you pretty far!

The first in a spine-tingling middle-grade adventure series that's Goosebumps meets Stranger Things following three friends who discover that the eerie urban legends they've been collecting may not be make-believe . . .

Emrys Houtman knows something isn't quite right in the town of New Rotterdam, although no one talks about it—certainly not the grown-ups. The climate is always overcast, and stories abound of mysterious disappearances, cursed objects, and creatures wandering in the fog.

While bonding with fellow spooky fans Hazel and Serena, Emrys catalogs every blood-curdling rumor and cryptid sighting in a Wiki. It's all in the spirit of good fun . . . until one day, the trio stumbles upon the Doomsday Archives, a collection of relics that reveal something is very, very rotten in New Rotterdam.

To their horror, the kids discover that while they've been hunting for monsters, the monsters are now hunting them back.

A Tall Dark Trouble

VANESSA MONTALBAN

Practical Magic* meets Erika L. Sanchez in this dazzling YA fantasy about a Cuban American family of witches entangled in love, magic, and murder, alternating between 1980s Cuba and modern-day Miami.

The Sanchez women aren't just unlucky in love—they're cursed. Twins Delfi and Lela are haunted by a malevolence that's followed their family from Cuba to Miami, poisoning any chance at romantic love. It's no wonder their mother forbids magic.

When Lela and Delfi receive premonitions of a killer targeting witches, however, the sisters must embrace their powers to save innocent lives. Teaming up with their best friend Ethan and detective-in-training Andres, Delfi and Lela set out on a dangerous hunt for a murderer that brings them face to face with the dark secrets of their family's past.

Meanwhile, in 1980s Cuba, Anita whispers to the spirits for mercy—not for herself, but for the victims of her mother's coven. She's desperate to rid herself of her power to communicate and command spirits, especially as political tensions rise and Anita's initiation ceremony draws near.

Lela, Delfi, and Anita's stories intertwine in a thrilling fantasy that spans oceans and generations as each woman steps into her power.
